Louis Fraser specialises in traditional architectural hardware but with an innovative approach. An extensive range of products and finishes, from oil rubbed bronze through to antique pewter, compliment both period and contemporary surroundings, yet deal with the expectations of modern living in today's society.

Finish symbols are displayed under each individual item to denote specific finishes available for that particular piece.

Oil Rubbed Bronze

Cast from solid bronze, all items pass through a series of hand applied chemical processes to help achieve this natural patina with the finish completed with a thin coating of beeswax. In time and usage, the original colour of this product will slowly age, giving each piece its own natural uniqueness.

Periodic wiping with a lightly oiled cloth or a fine paste beeswax will further help to preserve the look of the product.

Suitable for internal and external use

Antique Pewter

Cast from malleable iron, the natural cast pieces are subjected to chemical treating and polishing. A coat of clear lacquer is then applied to enhance the final appearance.

Periodic wiping with a lightly oiled cloth will further help to preserve the look of the product.

Suitable for internal and external use in sheltered areas

Dull Black

Cast from malleable iron, a protective undercoat (phosphate) treatment is applied prior to the final coating of Black paint. A traditional dip paint process is used thereafter, to aid the dull Black appearance.

Periodic wiping with a lightly oiled cloth will further help to preserve the look of the product.

Suitable for internal and external use.
